

As seen in the November 2013 issue of

Peninsula People

SPOTLIGHT ON THE HILL

Peninsula Heritage School Harvest Fair

"An amazing experience for the entire family!" exclaimed the parents of a new student at Peninsula Heritage School. "The Harvest Fair rides, the great games, and the delicious Tommy's Burger lunches - Wow, what a treat!" Under the direction of Harvest Fair Co-Chairs Christine Pearson and Cindy Waldman, their husbands Craig Waldman and Karl Pearson, 15/40 Productions, Ltd., and a host of Peninsula Heritage School parent volunteers, the school campus was transformed into a giant amusement park on a recent Sunday. PHS families, trustees, alumni, neighbors, and invited guests enjoyed the perfect fall weather and the family-centered attractions of this great event. Proceeds from Harvest Fair are used to help fund the school's arts and science programs.

1. Patricia Cailler, Head of School, (third from right), with PHS alumni Kate Chong, Katie Auerbach, Jael Campbell, Emma Nguyen, and Shayla Patel.

2. The leadership: Harvest Fair Co-Chairs and PHS parents Christine Pearson and Cindy Waldman

3. (Front row, left to right) PHS Trustee Elisabeth Lesser, Lisa Taub, (Back row, left to right) Manhattan Beach Mayor & PHS parent David Lesser, and Bridget Vetterlein.

4. Harvest Fair Co-Chair Cindy Waldman (second from right) with

PHS alumni Matthew Liberson, Sean O'Reilly, Atlee Pollock, and Fiona McKellar.

5. Peninsula Heritage School parents Dee and Rick Edler enjoying Harvest Fair

6. PHS Trustee and parents Art Auerbach and Maria Auerbach enjoying Tommy's Burgers donated by their family to Harvest Fair.

7. Peninsula Heritage Parent Association President Melissa Bradley (second from left) with children Luke and Graysen, and husband, Rick.

Please scroll down for photographs.

