Dear PHS Families,

Family Day marked the beginning of the traditional Thanksgiving festivities. We hope you had luxurious meals, exciting football games, and precious family moments.

This leads us to the month of December... a bustling holiday month filled with so many, many activities. As for the staff and faculty, we are realizing how quickly the year is passing and the many accomplishments we want to have in place by years end.

Please note we have parent conferences scheduled for December 9th and 12th – a meeting time to discuss the attributes of your lovely children. The 2011 year comes to a close for us on December 16th with grade level parties and the classroom to classroom caroling. We do hope you will join us.

Wishing you all a peaceful holiday season,
Patricia

My son's laughter is my favorite holiday memory, especially when we are in Phoenix with his Charnofsky grandparents, uncles, aunts, and cousins. This year he wasn't able to join us because of work. It just wasn't fun. Never take for granted your time with family. There is no substitute.

In November we discussed Veteran's Day, Squanto, and the second Art at Your Fingertip's project, "Larger than Life," based on the work of Georgia O'Keefe. I shared a book entitled Georgia's Bones by Jen Bryant.

In December we will be enjoying our larger collection of holiday books. Wow! Book fair will be here before we know it!
